SOLD PUBLISHED WEEKLY, BY

C. R. PATTISON.

THE PLOT THICKENING.

We were much impressed by an article in the Detroit Post, entitled "The New Plot." Being too long for our columns, we give it in a condensed form:

"The first step in this plot is to dub the President far enough to induce him to play into the hands of the conspirators; and to this end he is plied by every artifice of flattery, every wile of seduction, and every promise of future grandeur."

The rebel leaders see their great mistake in attempting to divide the Union; they propose to avoid this mistake, and under the garb of "restoration" to conquer the North and unite the two sections upon the plan of the Southern Confederacy. Seeing their former fatal mistake in basing the previous attempt upon Slavery, they propose to give that a temporary go by until the power is attained, when they will re-establish it. Hence they acquiesce in the nominal freedom of the slave, while they zealously work for the restoration of a white man's government. What such a government at the South means, every soldier knows. The Richmond Whig calls upon the President to call a Congress composed of members from all the States, the moment this adjourns. The northern Congressmen refusing to attend, or even if they should attend, this Johnsonian Congress is to organize and admit the rebel Congressmen, declaring the Radical Congress revolutionary, and a Congress composed of the ex-rebels and Northern Copperheads the Congress sustained by Executive authority. The Whig expects the Radical Congress to sustain itself by force of arms, which it would most assuredly do, and in this case the President would be prepared to meet force with force. The Charleston News and the Richmond Enquirer reiterates the same thing. The Northern Democratic papers are seeking to persuade their followers that the present Congress is not a legal body and should be dispersed, if need be, by the point of the bayonet. Our contemporary (Sentinel) claims to be the originator of the policy now adopted by the leading Democratic organs. It is fashionable with these papers to style Congress the "Rump Congress." The Democratic Press is uniting with their Southern allies in stirring up the embers of civil war. Says the Free Press:

"Can it be that this country has so incurred the displeasure of the Almighty that twice within a decade we are to raise our hands in strife against each other? We fear it!"

In its issue of April 8th it was still more explicit, saying:

"We care but very little as to the action on the Civil Rights bill, but we dread the too palpable drift, under radicalism, into a civil war. It will come unless they are checked, and they will hasten it in order to prevent the people from realizing their danger."

The Washington Constitutional Union says:

"The programme of the present Radical Congress will, if carried out, revive the horrors of the past, and send the angel of death into every home in the land."

At a supper given to James Brooks, in N. Y. city, by the Manhattan Club, of which Andrew Johnson is a voluntary and honorary member, August Belmont, the chief of the Democratic party during the McClellan campaign, made use of the following language:

"We will send him back again in November to a Congress which will be worthy of his presence, in which all parts of the country will be represented." [Great applause.]

The Post thus sums up:

Every man who reads well knows that in the work of educating the people to believe that Congress is a revolutionary body that ought to be resisted and put down, so as to prepare the people for the contemplated coup d'état, and also in the work of preparing and urging forward the President to bring on a direct collision with Congress, so that force of arms may decide the contest, the "Democratic" organs and leaders, North and South, are putting forth every exertion. If they can only gain their end, what care they how soon the country is hurried into a new and yet more terrible civil war? What care they for fresh battle fields, more national debt, and new mourning and desolation in the land, if only, under the pretense of "restoration," they can seize upon power, re-establish Slavery, revive State sovereignty, and again control the destinies of the Republic in the interest of Southern treason or Northern copperheadism?

The rebels were well whipped, and would have remained conscious of the fact, and yielded to a just reconstruction on the principle of the equality of all men before the law, if Andrew Johnson had only adhered to his loyalty to country and party.

THE NEW JOHNSON PARTY GONE UP.

The great Democratic party threatens to back out. Says a correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune:

"Vallandigham called on Thad. Stevens the other day, and in the course of conversation stated that if the President did not immediately begin to appoint Democrats to office, he could not retain the adherence of a single Democrat three weeks longer."

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH TO THE COLOR-ORED PEOPLE.

If he had stopped at the close of the first sentence he would have hit the nail on the head:

"My colored friends," said he, "I have nothing more to say to you than to thank you for the compliment you have paid me in presenting yourselves before me on this your day of celebration."

He had nothing more to say, but still talked on, boasting in the most unmeasured, egotistical style of what he had done for them. He had promised to be their Moses, he might have said, and became their Pharaoh. As loyal men, they wanted protection against their rebel ex-masters. Congress and the nation stood ready to give it. He vetoed it. The colored men of this country have had enough of such protectors. It is very fashionable for pro-slavery men to be better friends of the slave than antislavery men. But men must invariably be judged by their fruits. Have the copperheads sent missionaries south to educate the freedmen? When any of Andrew Johnson's friends do this, we will make an item of it in their favor.

READY FOR A FIGHT.

We happen to be an Inspector of Election, and intend to carry out our State law as we are sworn to do. For so doing, this penalty, which would be absolute ruin to us hangs over our heads. What may happen before next election we know not. But if alive we shall do our duty, and if interfered with in the discharge of it by the minions of federal authority, under this law, we shall fight. — Sentinel.

Can it be that our peaceful copperhead contemporary, after he has written so many diatribes on "peace," is at last ready to fight? He wants to make some of his ignorant readers believe that the Civil Rights bill enfranchises the colored man, and to make a parade of his courage, in case a colored man offers his vote, as an Inspector will refuse it, and if enforced he will fight! We trust that, armed by constitutional right, the intelligent colored voter will long put his courage to the test. "We shall fight." Wait and see. If he is not the first to run we miss our guess. And a poor chance he will have to act as Inspector when our soldiers, those who have fought, whether white or black, shall control our elections.

CURRENT EVENTS.

The present is apparently a dry time for news. — The President has entered upon the war against the Radicals—removing Radical postmasters. The Radical postmaster at Pittsburgh has been removed and a relative of Gen. Wade Hampton appointed in his place. The Senate will stand firm as adamant against all such changes. —

The traitor pirate Semmes has been pardoned by the President. Jeff's turn will come next. — The Emancipation celebration by the colored people in Washington was a great affair. Says our correspondent of the Detroit Post:

As President Johnson stood to see the long lines of dusky freedmen go by, he must have had strange thoughts in reading the mottoes on their banners: "Our friends in Congress, instruments in the hands of God." "The people, through their representatives, have given us our rights." "Unconditional Suffrage." "None can doubt our loyalty." "Lincoln our Liberator." — Turned fully towards him was the blazing motto: "With malice toward none—with charity to all" and the face of his beloved predecessor, life-like in its earnest sadness, on the canvas over these memorable words!

"Lincoln: green be the grave above thee, friend of our lonely days; none knew thee but to love thee, none knew thee but to praise." "I wish all men to be free." "Equal political rights." "Justice to all men." etc.

The Post thus sums up:

and while it was being repaired, some one passed with a light. The gas from the escaping oil took fire, and an explosion followed. The burning oil running down in all directions, set fire to other barrels of kerosene. With lightning rapidity the flames reached the Freight House and Depot, and an ocean flame was seen, Freight House, Depot, Windsor, all on fire. Says a spectator:

The scene was grand beyond description. Every mast, spar, rope, and tackle of the vessels anchored along channel were most distinctly and clearly outlined against the sky. On the shore was fire; on the water fire; and on land and water both the Fire King had his revels.

The night express was just ready to start, waiting for the engine. Many of the passengers on the sleeping car had retired to rest when the startling alarm was given, but before they could all escape the car was wrapped in flames. Several were consumed, and those who escaped, barely did so. Estimated loss, $500,000.

We copy the following account of the Chicago Sabbath School Union concert under the direction of Professor Foote, of our city. The concert was repeated again on Thursday last, a large number of people being unable to get into Crosby's Opera House, the most capacious in Chicago.

From the Chicago Republican

Crosby's Opera House last evening presented a scene never before witnessed in this city, and one that will dwell in the memory of all present as one of the most delightful reminiscences in life's history.

It was the occasion of the first annual grand concert of the Chicago Sunday School Union. More than five hundred children, boys and girls, the latter predominating, assembled, and with their sweet and fresh young voices sent forth a swell of harmony as delightful to the ear as the pleasing sight was refreshing to witness.

The house, although the weather was unpropitious, was well filled with a crowd of handsomely dressed ladies and gentleman, who heightened the effect of the beautiful appearance of its interior decorations by their becoming toilets and happy smiles of appreciation at the performance.

Can it be that our peaceful copperhead contemporary, after he has written so many diatribes on "peace," is at last ready to fight? He wants to make some of his ignorant readers believe that the Civil Rights bill enfranchises the colored man, and to make a parade of his courage, in case a colored man offers his vote, as an Inspector will refuse it, and if enforced he will fight!

This card is signed by "J. E. Doughty, Vice President."

Sad scenes occurred on board the ship Virginia, now in quarantine at N. Y. city, the cholera is still making its ravages on board the vessel. — Brigham Young has enrolled 10,000 men. A correspondent of the Detroit Tribune says, in reference to the soldiers and sailors serenade, which called out the President's bungombe speech;

Justice to the gentlemen who tendered the secession requires me to say that it originated with the soldiers and other friends of the President in the various departments, and was not a compliment paid by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union of this city." This card is signed by "J. E. Doughty, Vice President."

Terrible conflagration—Detroit and Milwaukee Depot in ruins—Freight and passenger depots entirely destroyed. The steamer Windsor is burned to the water's edge. A whole passenger train is destroyed. Loss of property immense, and an appalling loss of life. Only six months since, the Central Freight House was destroyed, but here everything is swept as with the besom of destruction. It seems that an employee was rolling a barrel of kerosene oil from one building to another. It sprung alak. A cooper was called,

What Are We About?
What can our business men mean? The west is all alive with Railroad schemes.
The hammer of enterprise is heard every where. Nearly every community but our own is wide awake. We alone are supine! Toledo and Adrian hold out their hands, saying, "Extend a generous hand and the reward shall be yours." Will we, or do we say by a gruff silence, "We won't." For some cause, Saline has given its sympathy to Ann Arbor. Hon. Wm. H. Patterson has been a leading spirit. Looking upon Ypsilanti as good as a corps for such an enterprise, he and others have hammered away and awoke drowsy spirits in Ann Arbor. We believe the same amount of pounding would have been effective here. The Argus quotes our article on "Railroad Matters," and thus comments:

"The above item should stir our citizens to action. It is a 'fixed fact' that a cross Railroad is to be built, connecting the Southern and Detroit & Milwaukee Railroads.— Shall Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti be the point at which this new road shall cross the Michigan Central? Adrian is moving, earnestly we understand, and is aiming to make Ypsilanti
the point of intersection. If our citizens would not see the almost ripened plum drop into the 'open mouth' of a more fortunate neighbor, this is the time to secure it. It is a road through Ann Arbor to Toledo, with the untold benefits it would confer, or a road
from Adrian to Huron, leaving Ann Arbor
"out in the cold." Which shall it be?"

At the late meeting in Ann Arbor assurance was given that the Board of Trade of Toledo would build the road from Toledo to the State line. It was decided that Dundee, Milan and New Hudson are points that should be connected with the road. A committee consisting of Hon. J. McMahon, J. H.
Morris, S. DeForest and H. D. Bennett was appointed to raise the necessary amount in Ann Arbor. We are the nearer route. It is designed to be an air line, and we should have the road. (The Courier says:

"That there will be a road built either through Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti to connect Toledo and Saginaw, we have no doubt—Ypsilanti is the nearer route. Shall we allow her to take the prize from us? Or shall we come up to this work like those who appreciate the advantages to be gained over us by our want of enterprise and business, foresight
If we let this opportunity go by us, Ypsilanti takes it without a doubt, and ultimately the County Seat, and Ann Arbor, will be left in that case, where she ought to be, an insignificant, one horse city."

Don't be scared, Mr. Courier. Unless more public spirit is manifested in regard to the enterprise than there has been as yet, you won't hear a peep from Ypsilanti.

Meldrum.
In connection with a Combination troupe, exhibited at Hewitt Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. It is a superior actor. We always were a lover of oratory, and naturally of the drama. We had rather go without a good dinner when half starved than to miss hearing such a superior dramatist as Meldrum. His representation of the Man in the Moon exceeded anything of the kind
we ever saw or heard.

Good Templars.
A large and respectable delegation of the Ann Arbor Good Templars visited our city last Monday evening. Our Lodge gave them a reception at Follett Hall. Dr. Chase, editor of the Courier, and Dr. McIntyre made brief addresses. Hon. S. M. Cutcheon and Prof.
Estabrook also enlivened the occasion with pertinent remarks. The whole passed off happily.

Change.
Our fellow citizen, Mr. S. R. Stevens, leaves for the active, flourishing village of Greenville, in Montcalm Co. He has done a good business at the depot, in the Boot and Shoe trade, but he wants to do better. The citizens of Greenville will find Mr. S. a fair, straightforward dealer. Success to him in his new home.

TRAINING CATTLE TO JUMP.

A western farmer says he makes it a rule

that whenever cattle are made to pass

a fence, whether through bars or "dip-

gap," to leave one rail for them to pass

under. This gives them a downward tendency, and lessens their inclination

to jump or look upwards, as they are sure to do when a lazy attendant throws

down a part of the rails, and makes them vault the rest. Cattle may be taught to go over any fence, by the exreful training they often get for this end, and performed as follows: First starve them, or give them poor feed,

which will make them light and restless.

As soon as they go over the lowest part of the fence, after better provender,

make them jump back again, and put on one more rail, saying, "I guess that will keep 'em out." Next day, as (or course) they will be in mischief again)

repeat the process, adding another rail;

in a short time they will take care of themselves, and harvest the crops with charge. - Tucker's Rural Affairs.

HORSES' FEET AND LEGS.

- If I

were asked to give an account for my horses' legs and feet being in better order

than those of my neighbor, I should attribute it to the four following circumstances: - First, they are all shod

with a few nails, so placed in the shoe

as to permit the foot to expand every time they move; second, that they all live in boxes instead of stalls, and can move whenever they please; third, they spend two hours daily in walking exercise, when they are not at work; and fourth, that I have not a headstall or track chain in my stable. These four circumstances comprehend the whole

mystery of keeping horses' legs fine,

and their feet in sound working condition

up to old age. - Miles.

- A tablespoonful of salpeter, given to a cow once a day, for three or four days is an effectual remedy, for garget.

It can be given in a wash if the cow is heavy, or in a dough pill. So says a

New York farmer.

I have purchased the stock in trade of Moore

& Clark, and added a well selected assortment consisting of

CROCKERY, CHINA, GLASSWARE, LOOK-

ING GLASSES, TABLE CUTLERY,

PLATED WARE, PAPER

HANGINGS, &c.

VISITATION OF THE CHOLERA.

Timely and Important Admonition.

The Young men's Christian Association of Chicago, have issued the following circular with regard to the advent of the cholera, which is to be distributed gratuitously throughout the city:

There is every reason to expect it will be here by the middle of May or the 1st of June. Its victims will be principally:

1st. Those who use intoxicating drinks.

2nd. Those who are not cleanly in their persons and houses.

3d. Those who are irregular in their habits, keeping unseasonable hours, eating irregular, etc.

4th. Those living in dirty, filthy localities.

TO PREPARE FOR CHOLERA.

1st. Be scrupulously clean in person, bathing the whole body daily, and keeping the entire clothing clean.

2nd. Clean thoroughly, and white-wash your rooms, outhouses and premises generally.

3rd. See that no swill, garbage, or other refuse matter is thrown out either on your lot, street or alley. Clean up thoroughly your whole premises, in doors and out, and set an example of cleanliness to your neighbors.

4th. If your landlord refuses to let him do his duty in putting his houses and lots in proper order, report him to the health officer or our visitor in your district.

5th. Abstain from all intoxicating drinks, ale and beer, as well as whisky.

6th. Use simple, wholesome, food, thoroughly cooked, avoiding stale vegetables or tainted meats. Do not give way to fear or panic. This will increase your danger. Cholera will in most cases yield to skillful treatment if taken in its first stages. Watch the first symptom, which is usually a diarrhoea. Do not neglect it for a single hour, however mild it may be. Delays are dangerous. Avoid all nostrums and advertised "cholera medicines" (most of them will do more harm than good.) Apply at once to some reliable physician. None of our physicians will refuse their services at such a time to the poorest.

7th. Lastly, but first in importance, prepare for it by giving your heart to the Lord Jesus Christ. Then you will be fitted for either life or death. You may not fall by cholera this summer. But death is certain to all and may come to you soon. If you are a Christian you are safe; if not you are unsafe and cannot be at peace. Be ye also ready, for in such an hour, as ye think, will the Son of Man come.

8th. Lastly, but first in importance, prepare for it by giving your heart to the Lord Jesus Christ. Then you will be fitted for either life or death. You may not fall by cholera this summer. But death is certain to all and may come to you soon. If you are a Christian you are safe; if not you are unsafe and cannot be at peace. Be ye also ready, for in such an hour, as ye think, will the Son of Man come.
